

IAN KERR

Production Designer & Art Director

After designing and directing live events across the North East for nearly 20 years, Ian moved into production design for film in 2021. His resourcefulness and attention to detail have led him to work across a range of budgets and genres, from psychological horror to coming-of-age romance. His focus is on illuminating the core of the script through his design and working closely with the director to achieve their vision.
